

Information and Cyber Security Today

Programme

Date: 30 October 2015

Venue: New Engineering Auditorium, North Campus, NMMU

| | | |
|---------------|--|--|
| 09:00 – 09:45 | Registration and refreshments | |
| 09:45 – 10:00 | Chairperson Welcome | Prof Rossouw von Solms Dr Oswald Franks |
| 10:00 – 10:30 | Ashley Madison – Deconstructed This talk will deconstruct the Ashley Madison case from a privacy and technical perspective garnering lessons regarding user awareness and practice as well as corporate governance. Cyber security will never be the same. | Members of the Centre for Research in Information and Cyber Security (CRICS), NMMU |
| 10:30 – 11:00 | The Target hack: A cyber wake-up call to Executive Management and Board Members This presentation will review the epic cyber security attack on Target, the huge US retail group, as well as the downstream consequences like the firing of the CEO and the massive class action legal case now being made against the company by customers who lost their data. | Prof Basie von Solms – University of Johannesburg |
| 11:00 – 11:30 | South Africa’s road to cyber security This presentation will discuss the recently published; “Draft Cybercrimes and Cybersecurity Bill” as well as other South African initiatives to protect South African interests and stakeholders from cyber-related risks. | Dr Jackie Phahlamohlaka – CSIR |
| 11:30 – 11:45 | Break | |
| 11:45 – 12:30 | High priority cybercrime investigation in South Africa Cybercrime in South Africa is a real problem. A number of prominent cyber investigation cases will be discussed and disseminated by the Head of the Electronic Crime Unit from the Directorate for Priority Crime Investigation (Hawks) of the SAPS. | Brig Piet Pieterse – Hawks |
| 12:30 – 13:00 | Launch of the Centre for Research in Information and Cyber Security (CRICS) The Centre for Research in Information and Cyber Security (CRICS) will be introduced and launched officially during this session. | Prof Andrew Leitch Prof Rossouw von Solms |
| 13:00 – 14:00 | Lunch | |